

It's Time For....

UnBirthday Party 2008

at Rangerville

You're Invited to a day of enthusiastic life celebration and unlimited magical opportunities.

Starting at 2pm on June 7th, a Saturday.

Expect all the usual and unusual events and activities, a plethora of conversations and a host of spaces to wander about or relax within.

Provided will be a place for us to play, make art, enjoy music and practice our conviviality.

Bring a tastebud-watering dish for the pot-luck and your beverage of choice (please, no glass containers outside). Your lovely ill-fitting clothes and books already read would be ideal for the annual swap. You might also bring an item of clothing to stencil or decorate, and your musical instruments. Flashlights are handy after dark and a tasty item in a can for the Food Bank would be splendid.

Wear fanciful, splendiferously-colored raiment with brash touches of panache, but be ready to keep that notorious NW summer nighttime chill at bay.

Anticipate mingling with the most wonderful people in the known universe, and a wonderful fire dancing event being capped off with Chuck's incredibly magnificent Eagle of Fire.

Games will include a reprise of something involving some remaining Marshmallow Peeps™ and who knows what else that may develop between now and then.

Omit dogs and petulant behavior.

Parking will be shown by signs on nearby roads and alcoves. Drop off food and passengers in front first, and see any special instructions for parking. Please carpool if possible!

Camping is available and very highly recommended. Call for details.

Questions may be addressed to 724-7355, 739-7323, or sent via email to ranger@rangerville.com. Hope you can come!
